As a resident of the area for nearly 15 years, I would be willing to work on some ideas around the station (and the wider town centre). The Delancy Plan is not a bad starting point for what could be the ultimate development(excluding the sheer height of the towers and lack of any offices). The key first steps are to persuade Network Rail to take the needs of residents seriously - after all they make up over 50% of users! With a bit more funding (the £10m from the SoS Better Stations plus further funding from the Council using TfL LIPS funds) it should be possible to both improve the platforms (as suggested by NR) and provide better station entrances at Brighton Yard and Grant Road (again along the lines of the Delancy plans).
