Subject: CJ station redevelopment

Dear Cyril,

I may have sent you my views about the development of Clapham Junction Station already, (certainly I have written to the Council), but in case not, here is what I think.

Speaking as a user of the station only, and not involved in living near it, the most important improvement would be the enlarging the width of the tunnel, increasing the number of turnstiles, and opening out the station entrances and the passageways into the station. Regarding any structures built on top, adding even four stories on top of the current height would have a negative effect on the local environment.

Regards,

Pat
